KANSAS CITY A'S PLAYER REUNION August 7-8th, 2009

Dear Kansas City A's Baseball fan,

We are happy to announce the formation of the Kansas City Baseball Historical Society, which is incorporated as a Non-Profit organization in the state of Missouri. This project was initiated by Jeff Logan (KCBHS President) and David Starbuck (Vice-President/Secretary) after the tremendous response of fans at the A's Reunion last year hosted by the Kansas City T-Bones. The reunion was in conjunction with the current A's documentary being produced by Take Ten Productions in Lawrence, Kansas.

The mission of the KCBHS is to bring together fans of Kansas City baseball history, and to host events aimed at sharing memories of our baseball past and meeting others with similar interests. The diverse history of baseball in Kansas City ranges from the Kansas City Cowboys, Kansas City Packers, Kansas City Blues, Kansas City Monarchs, and of the course the Kansas City Athletics, followed by the current Royals.

We are honored to have former Kansas City A's player Jay Hankins as our KCBHS Alumni Player Representative. We are now seeking members who wish to actively participate and share their memories and knowledge with others. We hope to host events allow members to discuss Kansas City baseball history, and to invite former players to speak on occasion and share their anecdotes.

We invite you to join the KCBHS. Our website is www.kansascitybaseballhistoricalsociety.com. It is still under construction and will be used to post stories and event information in the future.

JOIN US FOR A PRIVATE EVENING WITH K.C. A'S ALUMNI

Friday, August 7, 2009

Town Pavilion, 1100 Main, 32nd Floor, Kansas City, MO

Event Details – the Kansas City commercial real estate firm of Copaken, White and Blitt is providing the entire 32nd floor meeting space of the Town Pavilion in downtown Kansas City, Missouri (1100 Main). From 6:00-9:00 PM we will have a “Meet and Greet” reception available only to paid KCBHS members who have paid the event fees. We expect over 35 former players from the Kansas City Athletics (1955-1967) who will be in town for a Kansas City A’s reunion the following night (August 8th) at the Kansas City T-Bones game at Community America Ball Park (be sure to attend). Those attending the Town Pavilion event will attend an introduction of all players in attendance, who will provide comments and anecdotes of their playing days in Kansas City. We will then have a question and answer session with audience members. Following this, attendees and players will enjoy a casual “meet and greet” with lite hors d’ourves and a cash bar served until 9:00 PM. This is a great opportunity to see and hear from members of Kansas City baseball history, and to meet them up close and personal in a casual setting.

We hope you will join the KCBHS so we can all continue to share and enjoy the rich heritage of baseball in Kansas City. Please complete the membership form.
